CLAUDE N. MOORE Business Manager

NO-POINT, LOW-POINT

A program to encourage the greater use of foods which require few ration points, or no points at all, will begin about March 1. It is the aim of the War Food Administration, which is sponsoring the program, to show American housewives that a good "eating standard" can be maintained even though they pass up the "high point" items in favor of the more abundant edibles.

America's food marketing system which has attained great efficiency through the streamlined, mass distribution methods of multi-unit retail stores, brings to Mrs. America the best food available at low prices. But to gain the full advantage of this service under wartime conditions, she must know how to make her ration points "stretch." The "low-point, no-point" campaign will give her this information.

J. Sidney Johnson, advertising director of the WFA, declared, "If housewives build their meals around more plentiful foods, they are making a practical contribution to the job of making rationing work, because they are easing the pressure on the rationed foods."

This campaign will also serve to help the farmers by stimulating the demand for the more abundant foods.

Buying low-point foods may not impress the average housewife as a very dramatic part in the war effort. Yet such cooperation is one of the many things that go into the pattern of an earlier victory.

DON'T HOARD LIVING SPACE

Finding a place to live in California's overcrowded war production centers continues to be a vexing problem for the thousands of people pouring steadily into our state.

The National Housing Authority has built tens of thousands of housing units in California during the past several years. Vacant stores have been converted into living quarters. But in spite of these measures, the demand for accommodations still greatly exceeds the space available.

Obviously, it will require the fuller use of existing facilities to meet this situation more adequately. That is why crowded communities are continuing to urge home owners to rent spare rooms, or to fix up the attic or basement so they can be used. In support of these efforts, the resources of California's statewide branch banking institution are available to aid in financing home repairs or improvements which may be necessary to provide living quarters.

Such loans at low interest rates enable the borrower to repay out of the rent he receives. At the same time he improves his property, increases his income, and helps the war effort.

Few things are more disheartening to war workers than inability to find a comfortable place to live. So let us not hoard living space. Let us share with those who are working to speed victory.

THE ROAD TO DESTRUCTION

One of the most pernicious beliefs that has come out of this war is the idea that since we have been able to achieve full employment and high wages producing armaments, there is no excuse for not achieving the same goals in peacetime by producing a flood of automobiles, refrigerators and luxury gadgets ad infinitum.

When asked the question, Why does it always seem easy to find money to prosecute a war, and so hard to find it to win the peace? Dr. Harley L. Lutz, professor of public finance, Princeton university, replied: "The peace economy must remain solvent. A war economy doesn't have to remain solvent, and usually is not solvent. When we get into a war, we give the government complete dictatorial powers over everybody. It can conscript labor; it can force men to work; it can set wages; it can confiscate income and property; it can suspend all rights. The so-called war prosperity rests on this foundation of actual, although perhaps not nominal slavery."

We have consented to these things because the war must be won at any price. But tax spending for the mere sake of spending, as was done during pump-priming days, must end. Normal expenses of government must be cut to the bone and people must be taught to save. Either that, or we are on the road to destruction though we win the war.

HEALTH REPORT

For the week ending February 5, the San Mateo County Department of Public Health and Welfare reports that Daly City had two cases of German measles, three of chicken pox, one of whooping cough, and five of scarlet fever.

TROOP NO. 4

Girl Scout Troop No. 4 is busily engaged in collecting used clothing for Greek War Relief. The project will come to an end, Saturday, February 26.

Any resident of this community, who has a contribution of clothes to make, may contact the troop through its leader, Mrs. Lucille Lemon, RANDOLPH 7978, and a scout will call to pick up the donation.

Troop No. 4 meets every Monday, 3:30 p. m. at Grace Church of the Nazarene, Vista Grande and Santa Barbara avenues.

Not everybody with a dollar to spare can shoot a gun straight—but everybody can shoot straight to the bank and buy War Bonds. Buy your 10% every pay day.

Bay Area Enlistees
Enjoy Farewell Party

An anniversary party was celebrated in the La Junta, Colorado,
U. S. O. club by more than 300
of the original 960 San Francisco Bay area enlistees who came by troop train late in 1942 to help make this AAF Training Command field hum.

In the hall decorated with California's blue and gold they dined and dined with wives and girl friends and swapped yarns about their basic training, taken here during this airfield's embryo stage, and recounted the party which climaxed their schooling as soldiers. At that time they dubbed themselves the "California Volunteers."

The contingent came from San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley,
San Jose, Palo Alto, Redwood City, San Mateo, Burlingame, Daly
City, Alameda, Hayward, San Leandro, Richmond and Vallejo.

The volunteers, all inducted at San Francisco, enlisted in answer to a plea for Army Air Force mechanics and technicians. Most of them have occupied mechanical,
technical and clerical duties connected with the advanced pilot school since mid-December, 1942.
Nearly 400 have gone overseas, to other fields or to Army Specialized Training units.

THE DOCTOR PRESCRIBES...

Julia tells how to add taste appeal to cabbage, carrots, parsnips

IT'S NOT always easy to find excitingly different fresh vegetables this time of year—but it is easy to prepare the familiar old favorites in such a way that they take on an entirely new meaning.

All that's required, really, is a dash of daring and a sprinkling of ingenuity!

Here are a few of my own favorites. Perhaps they'll suggest some of the endless variations that can be played on the theme of winter vegetables:

Mock Crab Salad—Combine equal amounts of raw peeled shredded parsnip, carrot, apple and celery. Moisten with lemon juice and mayonnaise. It's really good!

Cabbage Chop Suet—Combine 3 cups shredded cabbage, 1 cup each of sliced celery and onion. Season to taste. Fry covered in 2 tbsps. shortening for 8 minutes.

Pan-fried Turnips or Rutabagas—Peel and slice. Boil slices 5 minutes. Dip in flour and fry in shortening, same as potatoes.

Onion Dumplings—Add 1 cup grated onion to regular 2-cup dumpling dough. Cook on top of stew.

Raw-Fried Carrots—Fry peeled carrot circles just as you do raw-fried potatoes.

Cream of Cabbage and Potato Soup—Take equal parts of shredded cabbage and sliced or diced potatoes. Simmer until tender in water to cover. Add 3 cups milk, and season to taste. Serve piping hot!

Parsnip Patties—To each cup of mashed cooked parsnips, add one well-beaten egg. Season and drop by tablespoonfuls into hot shortening. Fry until golden brown.

Nut-Topper—Mash sweet potatoes or squash. Reheat and serve topped with chopped roasted peanuts.

Onion Pancakes—Add one cup grated onion to 2 cups prepared pancake batter (delicious with any meat, or topped with creamed meat or fish).

Turnip Puffs—To 3 cups of hot, well-seasoned, mashed turnips or rutabagas, add 2 well-beaten egg yolks. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in well-greased baking dish, in moderate oven (350° F.) for 30 minutes.

Glazed Parsnips—Cut cooked parsnips lengthwise. Brown in well-buttered frying pan. Sprinkle with brown sugar and turn frequently.

Baked Onion—Bake whole large onions, dry outer skins and all, on oven rack exactly like potatoes, about 45 min. in moderate oven (350° F.). Serve by breaking open and seasoning with salt, pepper and butter or margarine.

Baked Carrot—Shred peeled carrots, arrange in buttered covered casserole. Season to taste. Bake without water in moderate oven (350° F.) about 30 minutes.

Cabbage Rolls—Roll leftover meat made into hash (or fresh-ground seasoned meat) in cabbage leaves. Tie and steam about 1 hour, or until done.

Critics' Choice

ILLUSTRATIVE of the cap sleeve vogue in casual cottons is the jumper dress worn by CBS singer Vera ("Fun With Dunn") Holly. This wrap-around by Claire McCardell was in the collection for which she received the Fashion Critics' Award as the most outstanding American designer of young, original and spirited clothes. Worn over exercise tights, the dress meets the most practical requirements of modern times. (From The Clothes-Horse, Inc., New York.)

Suitably Chosen

A TRINITY of good fabric, workmanship and fashion promises limitless adaptability to the black silk moire suit-dress chosen by CBS singer Audrey ("To Your Good Health") Marsh as a basic wardrobe item. Rhinestone-studded buttons and a fine eyelet blouse formalize the costume for studio appearances, and interchangeable plain buttons give all-day propriety to the all-season standby. The pert narcissus-covered half-hat, however, fairly shouts the spring season.

Medals Won By Marines

MEDAL OF HONOR

The Congressional Medal of Honor (Navy) is America's highest award for heroism on land, sea or in the air. It is awarded for valor and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty. Established in December, 1861, it is awarded in the name of the Congress of the United States. The medal is worn about the neck.

NAVY CROSS

The Navy Cross is awarded for extraordinary heroism in the line of duty. It ranks in third position following the Brevet Medal. A small gold star on this decoration and service ribbon indicates a second award of the same decoration. This medal was established in 1918.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE MEDAL

The Distinguished Service Medal is awarded those whose exercise of extraordinary good judgment in a position of great responsibility and whose outstanding performance of duty reflect credit on American Naval arms. It was established in 1918.

SILVER STAR

The Silver Star, instituted in 1935, is granted to persons serving in any capacity with the armed forces of the nation cited for gallantry in action which does not warrant the award of the Medal of Honor or the Distinguished Service Cross. It replaces the tiny Silver Citation Star of 1917-1918.

AIR MEDAL

The Air Medal is awarded to any person who, while serving in any capacity with the armed forces of the United States, distinguishes himself by meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight. It is granted in cases where the act of meritorious service does not warrant the Distinguished Flying Cross.

BREVET MEDAL

The Brevet Medal of the Marine Corps has not been awarded in recent years. It was originally awarded subordinates (officers or men) who were forced by circumstances of battle to lead landing parties or detachments after their commanding officers had become casualties.

LEGION OF MERIT

The award of the Legion of Merit is made to outstanding officers and enlisted men for "extraordinary fidelity and essential service." It constitutes a reward for service in a position of responsibility, honorably and well performed. It stems from the Badge of Military Merit, established in 1782.

DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS

The Distinguished Flying Cross is conferred upon any member of the air forces of the United States who, while serving in any capacity, distinguishes himself by heroism or extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight. The medal is identical in all services.

NAVY AND MARINE CORPS MEDAL

The new Navy and Marine Corps Medal is awarded persons in the Navy and Marine Corps for acts of heroism other than those performed in actual combat with the enemy. It has been granted for courageous conduct such as rescues at sea.

PURPLE HEART

The Purple Heart, originally established by General George Washington in 1782, was not issued for many years. It was reestablished in 1932, and made retroactive to cover awards to all officers and men who were wounded in action in any war or campaign under conditions entitling them to wear a wound chevron.

FOR WAR PRISONERS—Corner of the Prisoner-of-War food packaging center in Chicago. Here on a conveyor system, by mass production methods, thousands of parcels are packed each week for war prisoners. Three other centers also are operated by the Red Cross.

PLASMA UNDERGROUND—Blood plasma, processed from blood collected by the American Red Cross, is administered in strange places. Here in an underground dug-out built by the Marines in a South Pacific island hot spot, plasma is being given to a wounded marine in the top bunk. Note the container on a hook at the head of his bunk.

MAKE IT EASY FOR YOURSELF!

Remember the days before rationing? All you needed to know was the price of meat, and whether or not you had enough money to buy what you wanted. Then came the meat shortage, and some days you stood in line for hours, only to find everything sold out when it came your turn.

Next you were given an allotment of ration stamps which had to be turned in on meat purchases. But still the dealers' supplies were short, quality was doubtful, prices went up and up, and you had to take what you could get.

But that's ALL changed now—at least, if you shop at the Farmer's Meat Company store.

For we're on a strictly "quality meat, low price, cheerful service" basis. We again offer you a wide choice in meats of the high quality upon which we built this business, and at prices competitively low. Our friendly, helpful service will do much to take the "sting" out of your food rationing problems.
